Protecting Your Financial Information

It's important these days to keep your financial information safe. Let's have a look at how you can take some simple steps to make it very difficult for the bad guys to succeed.

Online or the telephone

- Use your common sense. If an offer looks too good to be true, then it most likely is.
- Do not give out social security numbers, account numbers or passwords. No reputable financial institution will call or email you, unsolicited, and ask for this information.
- Log Out Completely. Always click the "log out" button to terminate your access to your financial service provider's Web site. Access may not be terminated if you simply close or minimize your browser or type in a new web address when you're done using your online account.
- Be Prudent When Using Wireless Connections. Wireless networks may not provide as much security as wired Internet connections
- Protect Your Passwords and PINs. Do not share your passwords or PINs with others. You also should not store your passwords or PINs on your computer. If you need to write down your passwords or PINs, store them in a secure, private place. You should change your passwords and PINs regularly and use a different password and PIN for each of your accounts. Use passwords and PINs that contain numbers and letters or symbols.

Lastly, do a periodic "Identity Theft" Check. Reviewing your credit report may alert you to inaccuracies and unauthorized activity. You can obtain a free credit report every 12 months from three different credit bureaus by contacting the Annual Credit Report Request Service at AnnualCreditReport.com. This is the only authorized online source for you to get a free credit report under federal law. Be aware that you will have to disclose your Social Security number to obtain this report.

What Should I Do If My Identity Has Been Compromised?

If you think that your personal information has been stolen, immediately contact your financial institutions, including credit card issuers, to notify them of the problem. You should also notify the credit bureaus to put a fraud alert on your file. If you detect unauthorized transactions in or withdrawals from your financial accounts, ask the provider to investigate. In the meantime, be sure to change your username, password and PIN for the account.

Food Drive Number Is In!

Over 2000 pounds of food was collected this year during the 6th Annual SCTC Summer Food Drive.

The food drive would not be as successful as it is if it weren't for the generosity of our members and customers. We thank all of you for helping us restock the shelves at the Stayton Community Food Bank.

SCTC also thanks the following businesses and organizations for partnering with us: Roth's Fresh Market; Foothills Church; City of Sublimity; Fresh To You Produce; Postal Connections; Ugo's Pizza; Stayton Police Department; City of Stayton; Stayton Family Memorial Swimming Pool; Sublimity EyeCare; Willamette Valley Baptist Church; New Hope Community Church; Stayton Pharmacy, Regis High School and Sublimity Fire Department.

Want to know if any new businesses are opening up in our communities? Need addresses, phone numbers and information about the businesses?

Now, it's easy because SCTC is welcoming new businesses to the area and we have created an additional page on our website to let you know about these businesses plus, you can download valuable coupons (when available).

The most important task for any new business is to let the public know that the business is open and ready to serve them. For details on the newest businesses, go to: www.sctcweb.com (or www.wvi.com) and click on the business link under "What's Hot". SCTC will publish new business information for several months after they open and provide whatever important facts they give us. Look for links with each new business listed and start your shopping here. The three newest businesses are: The Sandtrap Deli, Kean's Computer Repair and Hummingbird Auto Glass.
